COURSE OVERVIEW

Business Impact Analysis (BIA) and Risk Assessment (RA) falls into the second phase of the BCMS implementation cycle, the most important phase amongst the rest. Incorrect or non-accurate data gathered in this phase may result in the inappropriate strategies proposed and could lead to huge costs.

This course aims to equip learners with the competency in writing the BIA and RA for their business unit. Through a mix of lecture, case studies and hands-on activities, each learner will be able to appreciate how crucial their entry will impact the entire organisation's business recovery strategies.

The course is developed based on ISO22301 requirements; templates for BIA and RA will also be given. Ideal for organisations that are starting on the BCM program, intending to upgrade their BCM program to ISO standard and/or include as part of their BCM maintenance program for new coordinators.
